

EXPERIENCE, REALIZE, AND BE AWARE...

Hey there ^{??}...

What is it? Sitting here listening to "love music" and thinking. I thought that being in love meant you'd never be lonely again. That it would be like coming home in every sense of the word. As the man ALDO BELJAMEN said "If nothing last forever, then what love the exception?" Laying here listening to R&B music thinking. I WANT to come home... to something right, something great... something worth coming home to. Are the possibilities there... are they endless and plentiful or are they WARY AND MEET?

Just jottin' down my thoughts that I wanted to share... I want you to know my thoughts and so I share.

iAdios!
